GALVESTON LOCKS HORNS WITH R. R. COMMISSION

Files Suit in the 26th District at Austin to Set Aside Houston Differential.

Special to the Eagle.

Austin, Texas, Aug. 27.—Suit was filed yesterday in the Twenty-sixth district court by the Galveston Chamber of Commerce, complaining of the railroad commission of Texas and seeking to have annulled, vacated and set aside all orders of the commission establishing a differential rate in favor of Houston over Galveston; also asking for an order perpetually enjoining the commission and its members from in the future making or promulgating any orders, rates, rules or regulations whereby a railroad company shall be required to charge any greater freight rate on shipments between Galveston and other points in Texas than is required to be charged for transporting such commodities for the same distance between Houston and other points in Texas.

The complaint sets forth the commission's order of February 10, 1902, known as general tariff of class rates No. 3, dividing commodity tariffs into ten classes and dividing the state of Texas into territories known as "common point territory" and "differential territory," and alleges that the various orders of the commission, amending this general tariff, and requiring railroads to charge stated excess on shipments of commodities between Galveston and points in Texas, over and above freight rate required to be charged for transporting such commodities between Houston and such points, is as to citizens of Galveston generally unjust and unreasonable, gives undue and unreasonable preference and advantage to persons, companies, firms and corporations engaged in handling any such commodities in Houston or any other city of Texas within territories affected by such provision.

The petition is very lengthy, taking up separately each class or commodity rate affected by the differential and complaining of the alleged preference given to Houston and other points over Galveston, laying especial stress upon the cotton and wool differentials, insisting that such are unjust and unreasonable orders and prevent cotton factors in Galveston from doing a larger and more profitable business.

R. L. Ryan of Austin is attorney for the plaintiff.

U. S. THREATENED WITH CHOLERA

Steamship Enroute to Baltimore With Cholera on Board.

Washington, Aug. 26.—That the Dutch ship Andyk is enroute to the United States with cholera aboard is inferred from a cablegram from the American consul at Rotterdam received by the Marine Hospital Department through the State Department. The cablegram reads: "Cholera Andyk, Wednesday Baltimore."

This message is interpreted as meaning that the Andyk sailed yesterday from Rotterdam for Baltimore with one or more cases of cholera aboard.

The vessel is a slow steamer and is not expected to arrive off Cape Charles until about Sept. 8. In the meantime the hospital service will take steps to prevent landing until a thorough investigation shall have been made.

A Spa's Curious Origin.

The discovery of the famous Woodhall spa in Lincolnshire was very curious. Just about a hundred years ago a shaft was sunk in search of coal, but the effort had to be abandoned owing to a rush of water. In time the water found its way into a small brook, and in due course the inhabitants began to speak of the curative powers of the stream. Science investigated the mystery and discovered that the water in the coalless shaft was richly impregnated with various salts and bromine and iodine. Geologists expressed the interesting opinion that ages ago the place was the sandy bed of a shallow lagoon or bay of a tropical sea where seaweeds of giant growth abounded. A mighty convulsion of nature lowered the sea bed, a great river flowed over the place, and in time its debris was formed into a mass of spongy rock or sandstone. Forcing itself through this mass at great pressure some 600 feet below the ground, the water now extracts the constituents of the original seaweed.—London Family Herald.

Olden Tea Table Etiquette.

Tea table etiquette was somewhat complicated in the days of that "hardened and shameless tea drinker," Dr. Johnson, when many people thought nothing of drinking tea or twelve cups at a sitting. It was considered proper for the cups and saucers of a party of tea drinkers to be all passed up to the hostess in one batch when replenishment was considered necessary, and in order that each person might be sure of getting back the right cup the teaspoons were numbered. When the cups were passed up those who did not require any more were supposed to place the spoon in the cup. And this writer remembers a very ancient dame teaching a small boy to place his spoon in his cup after the first cup had been emptied. He wondered for the reason. Now he knows that tea was once very expensive, and little boys were not expected to ask again.—St. James' Gazette.
